It's a Purim party with fruit of all colors to eat—and hamantaschen of course!

In this concept board book that also teaches colors, cute kids celebrate the holiday of Purim. Lily, in her red Queen Esther costume, brings red apples to the Purim party. Leo, dressed as a yellow hamantaschen, brings yellow bananas, and Eli, in his King Ahashverosh costume, brings purple plums. But who brought the hamantaschen to the Purim party?

Marcia Gresko has written more than a dozen books for children and young adults. For eighteen years she worked as an educational toy developer. She has also taught students in grade levels from preschool to high school. She lives in Southern California and Virginia.

Steve Mack is a children's book and greeting card illustrator. He lives in Lumsden, Saskatchewan, Canada, with his wife and two children.
